All the products are evaluated in the laboratory by experienced experts and once approved by the experts, they are offered as high-quality products to the markets at a reasonable and wholesale price. Arat products include a variety of sandals and slippers including cloud, medical, flip-flop, jelly, plastic, etc. using the best raw materials and in accordance with international standards.

Business Description

Considering that sandals and slippers are open-toe, they prevent the foot from sweating and stinking and are mostly used in hot seasons. A good sandal, while being beautiful and stylish, should fit the ergonomics of the foot and be of high durability and quality. Today, due to the use of sandals and slippers, many countries have started to fabricate this product. China is the largest producer of sandals and slippers in the world ranking first in production. Arat Trading Company has increased the quantity and quality of its products through increasing production lines and produces the most stylish and valuable products taking customers' health into account. This is to say that, the products are unrivaled internationally both in terms of quality and price. Due to the production of durable and high-quality products, this company exports various types of sandals and slippers to other countries such as Iraq, Oman, Emirate, Turkey, Afghanistan, etc.
